A Madrid dispatch says the cabinet declares that Camara's fleet will pass through the Suez canal Monday en route to the Philippines.

Washingrow, June 28.—The meaning of the movement upon Spain is that the president is determined to open the eyes of the Spainsh people to the true condition of the war and to above them how bady they have been above them how bady they have been considered in the state of ordering the Casis theet now at Cape Said back to Cadis.

It does not matter particularly if this is done or not. One of the reasons for sending Watton across the ocean is to capture and destroy the fact. This can be and will be done. It was said Monday in official circles as to coaling, ships of the belligerents. Under the proclimation Spain's reseals could only take on enough coal at Fort Said to see them through the canal to Atlen, the port at the other end. They would be blocked there, because, as there are nothing but liritish conling stations from there to the Philippines, the vessels could not coal again for three months. The administration, as stated in these dispatches, announced that as soon as the Camara fleet was definitely located at the Suezcanal a demonstration would be made against the coast of Spain. Within the last few days the department has been informed that Spainwond not be able to coal use ablay, and Monday morning at 0 citock a cable was received to coal use ablay, and Monday morning at 0 citock a cable was received. This immediately settled the matter at ma at the administration went, and early Monday morning orders were sent to Commodore Watson to sail at once to join Adm. Sampson and organize the squadron. At the same time Adm. Sampson was ordered to be in readiness for his arrival.
